MATT SONNICHSEN

NCSA Recruiting Expert

In term of joining NCSA, I had been writing the collegevolleyballcoach.com website (anonymously) for a couple of years when NCSA reached out to me. At that time, I was not able to do anything with NCSA because of NCAA rules, and I was still growing my website. As the website continued to gain popularity, I came to really enjoy being able to educate families about the trends of college volleyball and recruiting. Having been intimately involved in collegiate volleyball as a player and coach for over 20 years, so much of what families were asking me was just second nature. NCSA stayed in touch with me over the next couple years and as they made the move into a greater emphasis on Women's Volleyball, as I was at a point in my coaching career in which I was looking for a positive change that allowed me to stay involved with the sport and while continuing to assist families in their efforts toward collegiate volleyball. Joining NCSA was the perfect fit!

KELLY STUNTZ

Kelly Stuntz graduated from the University of Minnesota, where I obtained a degree in business and marketing. I have both collegiate and professional volleyball experience. During my time at Minnesota (2003-2006) I was named a first team All-American, First Team All-Region, two time All-Big Ten, and my team competed in back to back Final Four appearances, including a National Championship Appearance. After my college career I trained with the U.S. National Team at the Olympic Training Center in Colorado Springs. After my time with the U.S. National Team I moved to Chicago where I was referred to NCSA. I am in my 4th year as the Head Volleyball Recruiting Coach.
